BUSY ROCKLAND SCHOOLS

Have Total Attendance of 4256--New Record Established in High School.

In the Rockland public schools there are now 1256 pupils, of whom 608 are girls and 648 boys. Subdivided into grades and high school classes, the list follows:

	Boys	Girls	Total
Grade 1,	60	61	121
Grade 2,	72	73	145
Grade 3,	75	69	144
Grade 4,	68	68	136
Grade 5,	43	63	107
Grade 6,	49	48	97
Grade 7,	41	59	100
Grade 8,	47	46	93
Grade 9,	32	41	73
High School	478	528	1006

First year, 36 37 73

Second year, 34 33 67

Third year, 23 33 56

Fourth year, 22 32 54

110 140 250

The ages of the pupils average as follows:

First Grade, 5 years 9 months

Second grade, 6 years 10 months

Third grade, 7 years 11 months

Fourth grade, 8 years 2 months

Fifth grade, 9 years 2 months

Sixth grade, 10 years 5 months

Seventh grade, 12 years 2 months

Eighth grade, 13 years 2 months

Ninth grade, 14 years 4 months

High School, 15 years 8 months

Second year, 16 years 9 months

Third year, 17 years 3 months

Fourth year, 18 years 4 months

The average age of the four classes in the high school is just 17 years.

"The aim of the committee has been both to raise the standard and to lower the age," says Supt. Stuart. "At present while we have nine grades, the average age of the ninth grade is as low as the average age in other cities that have eight grades. In other words, we get our children through the grades just as young as they do in the cities in Massachusetts where they have only eight grades."

"The explanation is that those in Massachusetts and other States, as well as some in Maine, notably Portland, Bangor, Auburn, and Augusta have kindergartens and some a sub-primary and children cannot enter the first grade until they are six or more. While accomplishing this we have also added in the grades nature study, stories of the Greeks in the eighth, stories of the Romans in the ninth, all preliminary to further study of these countries in the high school. We also have added considerable in the line of literature throughout the grades."

"In the high school we are doing in three terms in algebra what they took five for eight years ago, and in geometry we are doing in three terms the same that they took four to accomplish. We have added one year of General Science for the Freshmen class and every scholar must take English the full four years in the high school."

"I must not omit to mention that the scholars in the seventh, eighth and ninth grades have Domestic Science and Manual Training, and a good many of the high school scholars continue these same subjects. We have now a full Commercial course of full four years, embracing Commercial Arithmetic, Bookkeeping, Stenography, and Typewriting, Physical and Commercial Law, Accounting, Economics, Spelling, Penmanship, Business English. Every scholar in this course must also take English all four years. We are in good standing with the college entrance board, so that students who obtain 85 per cent are admitted to all New England colleges except Yale and Harvard, without examinations. The school is practically divided in the center between the commercial lines, and the general and classical course."

"The high school has the largest attendance in its history, 250 scholars."

"The general activities, as music, vocal and instrumental, orchestral work, declamations, recitations, debating, etc., are also a regular part of school work."

"Our high school in common with modern ideas, has a very creditable list of activities. The orchestra, consisting of ten pieces, is led by Lloyd B. Ham of the faculty, and does creditable work. The Glee Club, made up of 50 young ladies, and led by the music director, gives in addition to the regular choral work one evening a week to vocal rehearsals. The Athletic Association has shown excellent spirit in practice and play and tried hard to put work on this line on a correct basis. Considerable special work has been done, as for instance piano solo work, declamations, etc. Opportunity for individual practice on the piano in the assembly room during school hours has also been offered. A recent experiment has been the Friday night social for the entire school, the attendance at which has averaged 100 pupils each evening."

The Courier-Gazette goes into a larger number of families in Knox county than any other newspaper printed.

Next Tuesday's Election

Voters In Eight States Will Go To the Ballot Box--Prohibition And Woman's Suffrage the Most Important Issues.

Eight States will hold elections next Tuesday.

In Massachusetts, Maryland, Kentucky and Mississippi governors are to be elected; in six States, New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, New Jersey, Kentucky and Mississippi the State legislatures, in whole or in part, are to be elected; and in New York, Massachusetts, Maryland, Pennsylvania and Ohio important constitutional issues are to be decided.

With a few local exceptions, in fact, these constitutional questions will be the dominant issues on election day, including as they do such fundamental matters as woman suffrage, municipal home rule, prohibition, State income taxes, referendum plans, and some lesser reforms.

The woman suffrage question will come up for decision in New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, which States will furnish, in point of population, the greatest test of the suffrage issue has ever had in the United States. New Jersey, the first State in the East to vote on equal suffrage, defeated the proposition at a special election given over exclusively to the suffrage question on Oct. 19. While it has been held by some political observers that the result of the test in New Jersey would be reliably indicative of what might be expected in the three bigger neighboring States, the suffrage leaders have not been discouraged by the big majority with which the issue was defeated in New Jersey, and look forward to the bigger test with confidence.

The importance of this test is indicated by the fact that, in point of population, the States of New York, Pennsylvania and Massachusetts, which will vote on suffrage Nov. 2, include over 20,000,000 people--a fifth of the population of the United States--and these 20,000,000 are practically double the population of the States in which equal suffrage has as yet been fully achieved.

New York
In New York State, in addition to the suffrage issue, a dominant feature of the election will be the question of adopting a new State constitutional convention, presided over by Elihu Root. The new constitution, at the request of the suffrage leaders, has not been made to include the suffrage amendment, hence the constitution and the suffrage issue will be voted upon separately, neither question having anything to do directly with the fate of the other.

In person the New York election calls for the choice of a full Assembly of 150 members, eleven supreme court justices and three congressmen, as well as county and city officials in some sections of the State.

Massachusetts
Massachusetts, in addition to the suffrage amendment, will vote on the proposition of giving the Legislature authority to impose a tax on incomes, and similar authority for the taking over of land in country districts for the purpose of establishing homes for those who may wish to escape from the more congested quarters of the cities.

A successor to Gov. David L. Walsh, Democrat, is to be elected and the candidates, including Gov. Walsh, are Nelson B. Clark, Progressive; Samuel W. McCall, Republican; William Shaw, Democrat.

Maryland
Maryland will elect a Governor, comptroller of the State treasury, attorney-general, a full house of delegates and half of the State Senate. In addition four constitutional amendments will be voted upon, and local minor officers will be chosen in the counties and Baltimore City. Candidates to succeed Gov. Goldsborough, Republican, are: Ovington E. Weller, Republican; Emerson C. Harrington, Democrat; and George R. Gorsuch, Prohibitionist.

Kentucky
The Kentuckians will elect a Governor for a four-year term, all other State officers, one-half of the State Senate and an entire assembly. Democrats, Prohibitionists and Progressives have candidates for all the State offices, with Republican and Democratic contestants for every place on the ballot.

Pennsylvania
Pennsylvania will have comparatively little of general interest to its election outside of the vote on the suffrage question. No State officers are to be elected with the exception of the supreme bench. In general the only thing other than the suffrage issue to attract the voters to the polls will be county and municipal elections, although one congressman is to be elected to fill a vacancy in the 24th district.

In Philadelphia the Republican organization has conducted a vigorous campaign to regain control of the city administration, which was wrested from it four years ago when the reform elements united with the Democrats and elected Rudolph Blankenburg as mayor. The Republican candidate for the mayoralty this fall is Thomas B. Smith former postmaster of Philadelphia. His chief opponent is George D. Porter, a reformer who has been director of the department of public safety in the Blankenburg administration. He resigned to make the canvass for the mayoralty under the banner of the recently formed Franklin party. The Democratic party is running its candidates on a straight party ticket.

Ohio
There will be general interest in the election in Ohio for the reason that State-wide prohibition of the liquor traffic is an issue again this year, as it was last year in the form of a proposed constitutional amendment which would forbid the sale or manufacture for sale of any alcoholic beverages. The "swets" have countered this proposal with petitions under the initiative and referendum law by which the people will also vote on another provision which would prevent the submission of any constitutional amendment more than twice in six years. Ohio is the only State in the Union which will vote this fall upon the liquor issue. In addition to the broader question of prohibition the so-called liquor license decentralization law, passed by the recent legislature, will be subjected to referendum. The issue concerns largely the method of selection of license commissioners.

Maryland
Maryland will elect a Governor, comptroller of the State treasury, attorney-general, a full house of delegates and half of the State Senate. In addition four constitutional amendments will be voted upon, and local minor officers will be chosen in the counties and Baltimore City. Candidates to succeed Gov. Goldsborough, Republican, are: Ovington E. Weller, Republican; Emerson C. Harrington, Democrat; and George R. Gorsuch, Prohibitionist.

Kentucky
The Kentuckians will elect a Governor for a four-year term, all other State officers, one-half of the State Senate and an entire assembly. Democrats, Prohibitionists and Progressives have candidates for all the State offices, with Republican and Democratic contestants for every place on the ballot.

and the Progressives are represented by candidates for nearly all the State offices and numerous seats in the general assembly. The Socialist party has only a candidate for Governor.

In the last Presidential election the Progressive party in Kentucky polled approximately 12,000 more votes than the Republicans, but the latter claim to have regained many of those who had left the ranks.

Four years ago, when Governor McCreary, Democrat, was elected, his majority over the Republican opponent was approximately 33,000.

Former Congressman A. O. Stanley of Henderson recently won the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in a three-sided contest by the largest plurality ever accorded a candidate in Kentucky. The runner-up declared in favor of State-wide prohibition. Mr. Stanley favored continuing in effect the county unit law, or local option. This stand later was incorporated in the Democratic party platform. The platform also favors submitting to a vote of the people a constitutional amendment that would do away with the prison contract system and permitting the working of convicts on the county roads. Edwin P. Morrow of Somerset is the Republican nominee. Fred J. Troxler, a Louisville man, heads the Progressive ticket.

Mississippi
The election in Mississippi will be merely a ratification of the nominations made by the Democratic voters at the State primaries held last August, inasmuch as no other party has candidates in the field. A full set of State, county and district officers will be formally elected as well as members of both branches of the legislature. No congressman will be elected this year.

New Jersey
Having disposed of the suffrage issue at the special election Oct. 19, New Jersey has little left of general interest for the general election of Nov. 2. Voting on this day will be confined to the election of six members of the State Senate and a full membership of 60 in the House. The campaign has been very quiet, no State-wide issues being involved. In some legislative districts, local option has been an issue.

CHANCE FOR ENGINEERS

The United States Civil Service Commission announces an examination for electrical machinist and all-around machinist, Jan. 1, 1916, to establish a register from which certification will be made to fill vacancies as they may occur in the Navy Yard, Washington, D. C., at a salary of $3.28 to $4.24 per diem. No educational test will be given and applicants will not be assembled for mental examination. The examination will consist of the subjects of physical ability and training and experience. Applicants must be citizens of the United States and reached their 20th birthday on the date of examination. For application blank, Form 1800, apply to Labor Board, Navy Yard, Washington, D. C., with whom applications must be filed in complete form on or before December 17, 1915.

BRINGS IN HER MONEY

Foreign countries took over $75,000,000 worth of automobiles and parts thereof in the past fiscal year, the Board of foreign and Domestic Commerce announces. This is an increase over the previous year of more than $36,000,000. Prospects are that the exports in the calendar year will exceed $125,000,000. European countries are the largest purchasers of the American motor trucks. Increased sales are being made, however, to countries far removed from the war zone.

CIRCULATION AFFIDAVIT

Rockland, October 29, 1915.
I, the undersigned, being the publisher of the Rockland Publishing Co., and that of the issue of The Courier-Gazette, for the week ending October 29, 1915, there was printed a total of 4,608 copies.
Before me: FRANK R. MILLER,
Notary Public.

The Republican meeting Wednesday, conforming as it did to the general spirit of similar meetings lately held in other counties of the State, is exceedingly significant of political conditions that will become more sharply defined and accentuated as the active season of 1916 begins to open out. With divisions in its own ranks healed and renewed and increasing belief that in the protective policies of its party rests the industrial welfare of the country, the Republican voters of Maine, in common with their brethren of the whole country, are preparing to wage a campaign that shall restore them to the control of our national destinies.

Zion's Advocate, the able religious organ of the Baptists of Maine, after a residence of nearly ninety years in Portland, is now removing to Waterville, which now becomes its official home. It looks queer to see Portland letting anything get away.

INSTALLING NEW COUNTER

Improvement Being Made in Money Order Department of the Postoffice—Parcel Post Statistics.

The new counter which is to do service in the money order and postal savings department of the Rockland postoffice is assuming shape as rapidly as the skilled joiners of the W. H. Glover Co. can put it together.

The structure was designed by E. R. Keene, who is not only an expert cabinet-maker, but a first-class cabinet-maker. The plans were so attractive that the Postoffice Department in Washington sent them back approved in very short order.

The counter is 12 feet long and will stand 7 1/2 feet high. All the exposed work will be in quarter oak, and the drawers are all partitioned for modern forms and equipment. The counter has a surface of polished plate glass, and the upper panels are ground glass. The screen will be of the double window pattern. Each of the two windows will be fitted with plate glass so as to admit the international conversion table, which is so useful when patrons are sending money to foreign countries. Over the counter will be modern lighting fixtures reflecting strong light straight downward.

The new counter is installed under the direction of the postmaster, D. M. Murphy. Sharing his pride in it is Henry C. Chatto, who has charge of the department.

The old counter and screen had been in place above 40 years. During its removal parts of an 1876 calendar were found.

From Oct. 1 to Oct. 15 there were received at the Rockland office from other offices for delivery here 2938 parcels and the number of parcels mailed at this office for local delivery in that period were 30, making the total number of parcels received for local delivery 2968.

Deliveries of parcels through general delivery windows and postoffice boxes number 807; by city carriers on regular trips with their mail, 465; by rural carrier, 69; by special delivery, 40; making the total number of parcels delivered without any extra cost, 171. There were mailed at this office to go outside to other places, 1781 packages, the total number of pounds being 4575, or about 2 1/2 tons.

Summing up all parcels handled the total for the 15-day period numbered 6220, which would indicate that this office is handling about 480 parcel post packages a day—a very good total.

Rockland being quite a distributing center, mails for the islands and points east were handled here for which no credit is given.

ROCKLAND SALVATION ARMY

The winter work has already commenced in the Salvation Army, and Adjutant Corbett is making definite plans for relief among the deserving poor. In a great many cities the Salvation Army is the clearing house for all charity cases, Leviston being the latest city to adopt that method. It is a great saving, financially, to the city, as no case is assisted by the city until investigation is made by the Army officers, and in a great number of cases the officers find certain families receiving a sort of combination support at the same time from different churches, friends and the city. Really these "charity people" live in greater luxury than the sympathizers. Adjutant Corbett would appreciate very much any clothing, especially children's, also furniture, as all these things are needed in the Army's relief work.

HE KEEPS POSTED

Rev. B. P. Judd, former pastor of the Methodist church in this city, has been transferred from the charge at Temple, N. H., to Cape May City, N. J., and is already located in his new home. "I often think of Rockland and of our neighbors there, and it is a pleasure to keep track of them through your paper," writes Mr. Judd.

THE WAR IN EUROPE

Unofficial reports from Greek sources represent the situation in Southern Serbia as somewhat more favorable to the entente allies. A dispatch from Athens states that the Bulgarians have withdrawn from Uskup. Advice from Saloniki tell of a fierce battle along the Vele-Komanovo front, with the Bulgarians retreating. Hope is being revived in London that the Serbians will be able to reform their lines along the Monastir front.

The Germans having effected a junction with their Bulgarian allies, it is possible that the campaign will be shifted from an effort to relieve Serbia to an attempt to cut communication with Constantinople. In this connection several military critics hazard the guess that the entente allies are not likely to withdraw from Saloniki, no matter what happens to Serbia.

Riga and Dvinsk remain the chief German objectives on the eastern front. On the other fronts comparative inactivity prevails.

The British cruiser Argyl is aground on the east coast of Scotland, and may be a total loss. All hands rescued.

In response to many inquiries as to the result of the treasure hunt at Green Island, it should be stated that the event never materialized. SENATOR GARDNER'S VIEWS

He Is "Agin" Large Increases in Army and Navy and Tells Why.

Former United States Senator Obadiah Gardner of Rockland when questioned as to his attitude regarding President Wilson's national defense program is quoted as saying: "While I am of the opinion that the Wilson program will pass the next Congress, it would not surprise me if it was modified in the line of cutting down the expenditure rather than in passing the budget as prepared, or increasing it. This seems to be the consensus of opinion among many influential men with whom I have talked, including prominent Democrats. After the war in Europe is at an end, there would be anything over ten old first-class frigates to trouble us. It will take 25 years for the nations to recuperate from the war. As long as styles are changing in war vessels so rapidly that a ship is obsolete almost as soon as it is built, I do not think it wise to go too far in building navies.

"As far as maintaining a large standing army is concerned, I don't believe in it. With a distance of 3000 miles between us and any European nation, I think it would be almost impossible for a nation to carry on a war against us successfully. To illustrate, I was in Canada last fall, and saw 25,000 Canadian troops ready to embark for the European fray. And with all England's great navy and transport system it was six weeks before she could get steamers and convoys enough to take these troops across the ocean. And what would it be for a nation to take 500,000 troops over to fight us?

"I think we will do well to stick to the lines laid down by Washington. Maintain friendly relations with all nations, make entangling alliances with none. If we mind our own business, I believe we will not get into trouble. I know that President Wilson is working under tremendous pressure from many sides to increase the army and navy. The manufacturing interests which are making the profit from munitions, are desirous of keeping up the demand for their products in this country. It is a matter of commercialism. I do not think we can maintain a pure democracy and at the same time a great military oligarchy. I don't think they go together."

Stopping a Leak.

A very good temporary stopping for a leak in either a gas or a water pipe may be produced by working powdered whiting and yellow soap into a paste. Press it into the leaking part of the pipe, and put on sufficient to make the hole airtight. This is only a temporary remedy, and should not prevent sending for the plumber at the first possible moment.

The Balkans.

The Balkans proper form the boundary between Bulgaria and eastern Roumania. The ridge is crossed by some 30 passes, of which Shipka is the most noted in history. In the war of 1877 it was the scene of desperate fighting between the Russians and Turks.

Punishment.

MRS. THOMSON TELLS WOMEN

How She Was Helped During Change of Life by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Philadelphia, Pa.—"I am just 52 years of age and during Change of Life I suffered for six years terribly. I tried several doctors but none seemed to give me any relief. Every month the pains were intense in both sides, and made me so weak that I had to go to bed. At last a friend recommended Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to me and I tried it at once and found much relief. After that I had no pains at all and could do my housework and shopping the same as always. For years I have praised Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound for what it has done for me and shall always recommend it as a woman's friend. You are at liberty to use my letter in any way."—Mrs. THOMSON, 549 W. Russell St., Philadelphia, Pa.

Change of Life is one of the most critical periods of a woman's existence. Women everywhere should remember that there is no other remedy known to carry women so successfully through this trying period as Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

The price of this novel newspaper was fourpence.

GIRLS! GIRLS! TRY IT! STOP DANDRUFF AND BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR

Hair Stops Falling Out and Gets Thick, Wavy, Strong and Beautiful.

Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and beautiful as a young girl's after a "Danderrine hair cleanser." Just try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderrine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt and excessive oil and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair.

Besides beautifying the hair at once, Danderrine dissolves every particle of dandruff, cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair.

But what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use when you will actually see new hair—fine and new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair and lots of it surely get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderrine from any drugstore or toilet counter, and just try it.

Handkerchief Newspapers.

Pocket handkerchief newspapers were issued in England in the early part of the last century while journals were subject to the stamp duty. The editor of one of them, Bertholds Political Handkerchief, suggested that after six months' wear, if the ink washed out, he would buy the kerchiefs back again from his readers. The price of this novel newspaper was fourpence.

BUSINESS IN ROCKPORT

Industries Thriving and Improvements Going On Keep Labor Busy.

The S. E. & H. L. Shepherd Co. had arrived in Rockport, over the Maine Central R. R. Friday and Saturday of last week, ten carloads of freight consisting of about four miles of Akron and drain pipe, which was received promptly by them and without demurrage.

Practically all of this pipe is to be used by A. D. Taylor of Cleveland, Ohio, under the supervision of Francis A. Robinson, on improvements of the estate of Mrs. C. W. Henry and the Mognitwick Golf Club, and there is more to follow for that purpose. Payments were made by the Robinsons, who are unaware of the amount of money that is being expended by our summer people. It is estimated that the improvements they now have under construction will cost in the neighborhood of $30,000, not taking into consideration the amount that A. H. Chaffield of Cincinnati is putting out in the improvement of his properties.

They are giving employment to a great many men and teams, a fact which is highly appreciated by the citizens of Rockport, producing between 2000 and 3500 barrels per week, for which they are having a great demand. It is not a question of how much time they can sell, but how much they can produce to satisfy their customers. It takes between five and six cords of wood to produce 100 barrels of lime, therefore they are using approximately 175 cords of wood a week. They have an ample supply on hand and a large amount under contract sufficient to keep their plant running the balance of the season.

They ship large quantities by rail and have several vessels that they use exclusively in transportation of their lime. They are now loading the schooner Herman F. Kimball, Capt. Thurston.

This vessel has been extensively repaired recently made by the Camden Yacht Building & Repair Co.

The Edward Bryant Co., lime manufacturers, are doing an extensive business in this town, giving employment to a great many men and teams, a fact which is highly appreciated by the citizens of Rockport, producing between 2000 and 3500 barrels per week, for which they are having a great demand. It is not a question of how much time they can sell, but how much they can produce to satisfy their customers. This vessel has been extensively repaired recently made by the Camden Yacht Building & Repair Co.

The Rockland & Rockport Lime Co. are also doing an extensive business. The plant is running to practically its full capacity. They have had arrivals within a few days, several large foreign vessels carrying wood, one of them holding more than 150 cords. This in addition to the large contracts which they have on hand now, will enable them to run their plant extensively on wood burned lime.

The company has loaded during the past week several vessels with lime for Boston and other ports, and now have the schooner Warren B. Potter, Capt. Pierson, loaded with over 4000 barrels of lime for Boston. The schooner Ella Crowell, Capt. Thompson, is also loading.

Enos E. Ingraham, treasurer of the Shepherd Co., took an auto ride into the country last week in search of stock. He fortunately met his genial friend, J. M. Pease, of Hope, who had a large quantity of stock and farm products for sale, from whom in a brief time he purchased eight steers, 30 tons of pressed hay and 10 tons of pressed straw, also a large hog—probably one of the biggest transactions in stock and farm products that has been made in Knox county for some time.

The Shepherd Company has chartered schooner Adella T. Carleton, Capt. Kent, to bring 370 tons of coal from New York, due to arrive within a week or ten days.

Miss Alice Teel has returned from Montreal, where she has been spending the summer.

Mr. and Mrs. John Ranlett are on a morning trip to Boston, with Augusta friends.

There will be a Halloween social in the First Baptist vestries at 7:30 Saturday evening, when all of the popular Halloween games will be played.

A pleasant social evening is in store.

Misses Ivy and Bernice Young entertained friends at a Halloween party at their home, 6 Columbia street, Tuesday evening. Supper was served at 6:30.

The center attraction was a large pumpkin in the middle of the table filled with fruit. The room was decorated with corn stalks, autumn leaves and other Halloween decorations, under the tasteful arrangement of Mrs. John Thomas of Thomaston. Among the amusements of the evening was a "ghost" with a black cat on its head for a hat. The evening passed rapidly playing Pinch. Certainly no one was as lucky as "Spider."

Mrs. Almida Pressey, who has been spending the summer with her sister, Mrs. Rose Gould, has returned to her home in Pittsfield, Mass.

One of the leading Halloween attractions in the city this year will be the social which will be held in the Methodist vestry next Monday evening. This annual social is under the auspices of the Epworth League and the committee promises those who attend the best time. They have been very successful in finding new games and contests. The fortune-teller, well-known and yet unknown, will be present as usual. A king and queen will greet each one with an address of welcome and all the mysteries of a good old-fashioned Halloween party will be present. The doors will open at 7:30.

Mrs. Elden Davis goes this Friday morning to Boston and vicinity for a month's visit with relatives and friends.

Mrs. Courtney Foster entertained the M. W. S. Club at her home Wednesday evening. Nov. 3 the club will meet with Miss Jessie Broadon.

Mrs. E. G. Olney is visiting in Boston.

The Thursday Club held its meeting at Hotel Rockland this week, with Mrs. G. W. Bachelder and Mrs. A. S. Black as hostesses. The hotel provided an excellent supper.

Mrs. Forrest Libby was called to Boston Tuesday by the serious illness of her brother.

Mrs. Wallace Soule of Yarmouth is the guest for a few days of her brother, A. E. Cleaves, at 10 Claremont street.

J. B. Earle of Oakland, Calif., who formerly resided on Maple street, this city, is a guest at the Thordike Hotel over Sunday. It is his first visit in this city since the family moved from here 51 years ago. His father was a former Rockland business man.

Mrs. Francis E. Harrington and little son Charles of Lisbon Falls are spending the week in this city.

Dr. and Mrs. L. C. Bickford returned Thursday from a motor trip to Portland.

The Good Cheer sewing circle meets with Mrs. W. G. Butman, North Main street, next Tuesday afternoon.

DOOLEY-DONOHUE

The first wedding in Thomaston's new Catholic church took place this morning at nine o'clock, when Miss Cassie Helena Donohue of that town and Mr. Francis Joseph Dooley were united in marriage by Rev. Fr. J. A. Flynn. The wedding march was played by Miss Joan Melmus of Rockland and a solo was sweetly rendered by Mrs. Stanley Cushing.

The bride who looked very attractive in a traveling suit of blue broadcloth with a blue mouflon fur collar and hat to match, was attended by Miss Mabel E. Dooley, sister of the groom, who was prettily gowned in a brown suit with hat to match. The groom was attended by Mr. John J. Donohue, brother of the bride. After the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the bride's home.

The bride is the third youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Donohue. She was a graduate of the Thomaston high school in 1906 and of Farmington Normal school in 1911, since which time she has successfully taught in the Calais schools. The groom is a sulphate specialist in Carthage, N. Y.

The couple left on the afternoon train for their wedding trip which will include Montreal and Quebec. The numerous gifts consisted of cut glass, linen and silver.

ROCKLAND THEATRE

In the Famous Players Film Company's most recent release, "The Pretty Sister of Jose," Miss Margaret Clark the dainty and diminutive star who appears exclusively in productions of this company, meets one of her greatest opportunities, and attains a degree of power and charm that will do much to extend her phenomenally increasing popularity. This latest feature on the Paramount program is at the Rockland for today and tomorrow where delighted audiences testify their enthusiastic endorsement of both the star and play.

The individual impersonations of Edythe Chapman, Gertrude Norman, William Lloyd, Rupert Julian, Jack Pickford, Teddy Sampson and others in the cast are well sustained and greatly assist the development of the central character.

Also the 13th instalment of "The Broken Coin." Friday night is "Coupon Night." The premium will be given away next Thursday night, Nov. 4. Coming Monday and Tuesday, D. W. Griffith's mighty spectacle "The Birth of a Nation." Prices matinee 25c, 50c, 75c. Pictures start at 2 o'clock. Evenings 25c, 50c, 75c, $1.00, box seats $1.50. Pictures start at 8 o'clock. SONS OF MAINE CLUB

According to our correspondent (Boze) the fourth annual harvest supper of the Somerville (Mass.) Sons of Maine Club, held Oct. 20, was a great success. "About 170," he writes, "sat down to a bountiful supper, everything good and plenty of it, from beans to pie. Of the nine at my table, four were born at Tenant's Harbor, three of the others married Tenant's Harborites and the other two, we found out, knew Tenant's Harbor people."

GASOLINE ECONOMY

Albert J. Rawley Carried It a Little Too Far—Bystander's Innocent Suggestion Saved the Day.

Few residents of St. George are better known in this city than Albert J. Rawley, one time deputy sheriff of the county of Knox. Mr. Rawley is noted for his infinite good nature, and it certainly takes something out of the ordinary to disturb his tranquility.

He came to town in his automobile the other day, and though Al didn't know it the Jinx was riding with him. The automobile suddenly came to a stop, and the ordinary methods of coaxing had no effect upon it whatever.

Mr. Rawley ground the self-starter until there was actual danger that it would be worn out.

Mr. Rawley then connected the crank and cranked awhile on the batteries.

Mr. Rawley then tried spinning the machine on the magnet.

Mr. Rawley then went to the nearest shop where such things are kept, and bought six new cells.

When Mr. Rawley had tried these various schemes and started nothing but perspiration a bystander calmly suggested that perhaps the car was out of gasoline. The suggestion was accepted with scornful regard for its worth, but when the top of the vaporizer had been unscrewed sure enough, there was no juice. Mr. Rawley then recalled that he had traveled 35 miles on one and one half gallons of gasoline.

His subsequent remarks about himself were of the kind that nobody else would have dared use toward him—in spite of his infinite good nature.

Manager Pierce announces that the Arcade skating rink will open next Wednesday night. The floor has been thoroughly resurfaced, and the rink is now being decorated. The Belfast rink will be closed temporarily. And it is expected that a large number of Belfast skaters will be present at the Arcade opening.

A CHURCH BEACON

Model of Owl's Head Light Added to Pastor Ufford's Interesting Collection at Galilee Temple.

Six years ago this paper gave an account of the dedication of Rockland's new church christened as Galilee Temple. It was also called by the name of the life-line church, from the fact that its pastor composed the characteristic song, "Throw Out the Life-Line."

Rev. E. S. Ufford, the founder, has sought to carry out the nautical symbolism by employing some of the sea-faring figures. Capt. A. G. Young of Camden, was secured to construct a boat-pulpit for the rostrum, which, with its mahogany deck and desk, its pure white sides and green water-line, serve to furnish much in this direction. Although not intentionally a sailor's church, it nevertheless appeals to sea captains and mariners who often are visitors to the temple overlooking the attractive harbor.

The latest addition in pulpit furniture is a product of the pasteur's ingenuity in the form of a small light-house, which is a model of the famous Owl's Head beacon, known from Maine to California. It measures three feet in height, is of pure white, constructed from wooden strips, and is in every detail a fac-simile. A door with its upper glass panels, as well as the windows, all in miniature, correspond with the railing for the lookout, as well as the dome with its yellow curtains. It is also equipped with a 40-candle power bulb which sends out its pretty ray as the congregation sing the stirring hymn by P. D. Bliss, "Let the lower lights be burning, Send a gleam across the waves."

Some poor fainting, struggling seaman. This is rendered the more impressive by an artistic painting of life size of Christ walking upon the waves of Galilee in the act of rescuing his disciple, Peter. This scene, executed by the late Charles C. Murdoch of Rockland, Mass., is further enhanced by the introduction of a piece of wreckage on which a sailor is drifting. Above his head a rift appears in the sky from which a hand is seen casting down a life-rope toward which the eager hand of the shipwrecked man is extended.

The interpretation of this parable was that the pastor might encourage his hearers to "look aloft!" The two sources of rescue appeal to them from the fact that although one was the man of Galilee, the other with the downy hand would signify the risen Lord, the one who ever liveth to intercede for us.

Upon either side of this beautiful scene are two selections of scripture which apply to the two states of human dependence, one taken from the Old and the other from the New Testament. One is from the experience of David, the psalmist, in a spiritual form the other being the literal need of Simon Peter.

"In my distress, I called upon the Lord, and cried unto my God. He drew me out of all my troubles, He drew me out of many waters."

"Beginning to sink he cried, saying 'Lord, save me.' And immediately Jesus stretched forth his hand and caught him."

Sunday night, Oct. 17, the light-house was dedicated with appropriate exercises, including the rendering of the song, "Throw Out the Life-Line," by the author, now in his 65th year.

PENOBSCOT BAY BETHEL

Coast Mission Work, Now Handed From Rockland Warmly Commended By Portland Editor.

The Penobscot Bay Bethel Mission, which was organized ten years ago at Stockton Springs at the time the great dock was built at Cape Jellison, has so extended its work that it has now been extended to the Penobscot Bay. J. L. Corson, has for the good of the cause moved the headquarters to Rockland. While the greatest amount of work accomplished by this coast mission is in Penobscot Bay it has recently extended its western line to Cape Small Point and eastern Casco Bay. The Cape Jellison Bethel will still be maintained in charge of an assistant and the work conducted as vigorously there as ever.

The importance of the work of the coast missionaries is becoming better appreciated every year. It is not all fair sailing. There is a great deal of men and women engaged in coastal visitations. The work must be carried on in winter as well as in summer; in foul weather the same as in fair. And it requires the finest sort of judgment to carry on successfully a labor of this sort, particularly as the missionaries seek to administer to the temporal as well as to the spiritual lives of the needy coast people. These missionaries of the Penobscot Bay Mission and of the Maine Seacoast Mission Society, which latter organization labors chiefly in farther eastern Maine waters, deserve every encouragement and all the moral and financial support we can possibly give them.

Winter is coming on and there will be much suffering among the poor of the isolated coast sections and remote islands. The missionaries are doing everything in their power to alleviate such misfortunes along the coast but the demands upon their resources are far in excess of their powers to gratify them. We can make no mistake in remembering that these missions are doing practical Christian missionary work.—Portland Express.

THE ORIGINAL CAST

Will Be Seen in "The Birth of a Nation" At Rockland Theatre Next Week.

There is one point worth considering in motion picture plays—you always get the original cast. In producing "The Birth of a Nation," which is at present doing sensational business all over the country, the selection of players must have been a serious problem for Mr. Griffith, as the range of characters and the work they had to perform covered a multitude of things that could not have been imitated upon ordinary workers in the drama.

"The Birth of a Nation" is the greatest sensational success in stage annals of the world, for the first time in history of art you see the pinnacle of the spectacles, love and romance of history, tremendous battle scenes, the assassination of Lincoln, the dauntless rides of the Ku-Klux Klans and a tender domestic drama and charming comedy. "The Birth of a Nation" took eight months in the making and cost $500,000. When it is shown at Rockland Theatre Nov. 1, 2 and 3, the audience will see the same cast as New York City, Philadelphia, Atlantic City, Providence, Boston, San Francisco and other cities, for in motion pictures there are no number two companies.—adv.

FULLER-COBB COMPANY

"THE BIRTH OF A NATION"

Griffith's big picture, "The Birth of a Nation" will come to Rockland Theatre next week, Monday Tuesday and Wednesday. There will be a big orchestra of ten pieces, and a chorus behind the scenes.

The picture is a dramatization of Dixon's "The Clansman." Its chief incidents are historic. The incident of the negroes responsible for the formation of the Ku-Klux Klan which chased the carpet-baggers from the North and rehabilitated the Southland.

Few people know into what a lamentable situation the South fell nearly ten years after Appomattox. The whites were disfranchised because of their part in the war and Southern States were governed by a combination of newly franchised negroes and carpet-baggers from the North whose main object was loot. How the whites of the South regained control of the country is one of the most dramatic passages in our history.

"The Birth of a Nation" is said to contain 18,000 people and 3000 horses. Nothing so spectacular has yet been shown upon the screen. For the first time in the history of film art you see the great historical conflict pass before your eyes. The burning of Atlanta, Sherman's March to the Sea, the victory of the North, Grant and Lee at Appomattox, Reconstruction Troubles, Love and Romance of History, Tremendous Battle Scenes, The Lincoln Tragedy, Dauntless Rides of the Ku-Klux Klan, tender domestic drama and charming comedy, and the dawn of the "New Nation."

Owing to the tremendous patronage that will undoubtedly be showered upon this massive screen spectacle during its local engagement, patrons are warned to secure their seat reservations at the earliest possible moment for the attendance at the Rockland Theatre will positively be greater than this city has ever known before, either for a production of the spoken stage or the silent drama. All orders filled in order of their receipt.—adv.

COUNTY REPUBLICANS MEAN BUSINESS

Splendid Gathering At Crescent Beach Impresses State And National Candidates As Being Very Much In the Game--Distinguished Visitors Modestly Discuss Their Individual Chances And See Party Success.

The Republican "get-together" at Crescent Beach, Wednesday, was in many respects the most remarkable political gathering that has ever been held in Knox county on an "off year." One hundred stalwart representatives assembled from all parts of the county, and there would easily have been half as many more had not a belated thunderstorm placed the roads in such bad condition for traveling.

The outstanding feature of Wednesday's gathering was the presence of eight men whose names are to figure prominently on the June primaries ballot. Four of these men are seeking the nomination for governor, two would like to be the party's choice for U. S. Senator, and two are aspirants for United States Senator. In addition to these eight avowed candidates there were two other guests of honor, whose names are frequently mentioned in connection with the Congressional nomination.

The governorship candidates present were Hon. Edward W. Wheeler of Brunswick, Hon. Carl E. Milliken of Island Falls, Hon. T. F. Callahan of Lewiston, and Hon. George G. Weeks of Fairfield. Among the two candidates, Col. F. H. Parkhurst and Hon. Arthur Chapin, were not present—possibly for the reason that the Penobscot county situation may later be clarified by the withdrawal of one of these candidates.

The other absentee was Hon. Alexander C. Hagerly of Ellsworth. In the opinion of a very prominent Republican worker the next governor will be one of the seven men above named. One of the Bangor candidates may withdraw in the interests of harmony, but otherwise there will be no change in the lineup for the June primaries. Dark horses are not being even remotely discussed, for the obvious reason that there is a wealth of material at hand.

The avowed candidates for the Second District Congress, having been a candidate in the old convention days. He feels that he is entitled to some consideration in Knox county, having stood shoulder to shoulder with Cobb and Littlefield during the strenuous days of their campaigns.

Mr. White claims blood relationship with Knox county, by virtue of being a grandson of the late Senator Frye, whose wife was a Rockland woman.

The second district is at present solidly entrenched in Democratic hands, but there are men unafraid to beard Dan Mac in his den, and signs are not lacking that the gods are on their side.

The two candidates for United States Senator who responded to the county committee's invitation were Col. Frederick Hale of Portland and ex-Gov. Bert M. Fernald of Poland, and no doubt exists in the minds of the voters that one of these two able aspirants will head the Republican ticket next September. Both are popular with Knox county voters, and both will have their factions vigorously at work between now and the June primaries.

Five of the above-named candidates were on the ground overnight, and the corridors of the Thorslake Hotel presented the lively scene that always accompanies any important political gathering. The remaining candidates came on the forenoon train Wednesday, by which time most of the Knox county representatives had arrived. Trolley and auto conveyed them to Crescent Beach, where for an hour or more preceding the banquet, the candidates and voters bent their efforts toward becoming better acquainted.

The busiest men in the group were Hon. J. Frank Ham, chairman of the State committee, A. S. Black, Knox county member of the State committee, and F. C. Norton, chairman of the county committee. To their diligence and foresight must be attributed one of the most harmonious political gatherings any party in Knox county has ever known.

The hungry hundred got the word at 1:10, and surrounded the dining tables in the twinkling of an eye. Prayer was offered by Rev. W. L. Pratt, pastor of the Rockland First Baptist church. The next hour was devoted to the fine shore dinner prepared by Landlord Smith, and served expeditiously by the members of Edwin Libby Relief Corps.

When the after-dinner cigars had been lighted, and the windows had been opened to admit the delicious October air for the benefit of those who did not smoke, the assemblage was called to order by Chairman Norton, who introduced Mayor Charles M. Harrington. The latter welcomed the guests in a very neat speech in which he declared that when the choice of the June primaries had been made the successful candidates would find Knox county voters loyal to their cause.

To Chairman Ham was assigned the duty of making the principal speech, and he did it in a manner that left no doubt as to the State committee's wisdom in selecting him for its chairman.

"It seems like getting home," said the former warden of the State Prison. "It also indicates that the Republicans of Knox county are alive, and have got on their war paint."

Mr. Ham then quoted the statement of the Democratic chairman: "The Democrats have got to win in 1916. Paste that onto the end of your report."

"He doesn't say that the Democrats can or will win," said Mr. Ham, but that they must win.

"They will not win and you can paste that on the end of your report," letters which he had received in his morning mail.

An Ansonia man wrote: "This county will throw the largest Republican vote in its history. Hundreds of Democrats have said that they will vote against the present administration."

"Ninety-five per cent of the Progressives will join the Republicans in 1916," wrote a Somerset county man.

"If the election were held today my town would vote two to one for the Republican ticket," said an Androscoggin correspondent, who added that there is a very strong sentiment there against tariff reduction.

"It's going to be a wicked campaign," said chairman Ham, "but the reason is that the Democrats know it will be the people of Knox county are waking up to the occasion." Judge Robinson made a fine plea for the rebuilding of the merchant marine and for a navy larger than any other country's, with the possible exception of Great Britain's.

"If the Republican party comes into power," said the speaker, "you will see an adequate merchant marine—not a mess of second-hand junk hauled from Germany, such as we have today."

Frank B. Miller, for 21 years a member of the county committee, and a long time its efficient chairman, reviewed political history. "Since 1900," he said, "the Republicans have been floundering in the wilderness, but unlike Moses it shouldn't take us 40 years to emerge therefrom. I have recently made a tour of Knox county, and find more evidences of activity than at any other period since the Republican party was last successful. We should take a leaf out of the Democrats' book—the leaf of preparedness. The proper way in this campaign is to start early and have a preliminary canvass, followed with a permanent one."

Hon. H. L. Shepherd said that united action and honest, square deal would win. Mr. Shepherd voiced the wish of nearly everybody present when he said he would like to hear from the candidates, but he yielded gracefully when told by the chairman that the invitations had read "no speeches" and that the candidates had expressed preference for such an arrangement.

"It's easy to defeat the enemy after a good dinner," said Frank H. Ingraham, "but I believe we will all go home with renewed determination. The thing that counts is the man present." Dr. Crockett aroused much enthusiasm with a characteristic speech and there was a genuine outburst when he said that Thomas, for the first time in 100 years, is under the Republican banner. He urged the Republicans to present a straight ticket in every town and see that they get a square deal. The tide of public opinion is rising, and with the right kind of candidates there will be a flood tide of victory.

"Whether I am a candidate or not, I do not know," said Dr. Crockett, "but I possess all the traits of a human being, and if the party in Knox county wants me as a candidate for State senator or representative to Legislature from Thomaston, I am willing to listen."

"If the voters can be made to understand the principles involved they will vote the Republican ticket." "The little speech I've got I am going to keep until I go on the stump with Dr. Crockett through the length and breadth of Knox county," said Judge L. R. Campbell, amid laughter.

"I have never seen such assurance of success," said Mr. O. Fuller, the concluding speaker, who conveyed to the guests his opinion that they had met a distinctive gathering of Knox county Republicans, without precedent in an off-year.

The Courier-Gazette took occasion to interview each of the candidates present with regard to their own and the party's outlook in the approaching primaries and election. Here is a summary of what they said:

Candidates For Governor

Edward W. Wheeler: I feel that my prospects are improving steadily, and as the situation now shapes itself there seems to be an excellent chance of my success. The best feelings of friendship and good fellowship exist among all the candidates, and with it is every indication of a united party, and that means success at the polls. The general drift of sentiment is toward us, and the business depression everywhere will send many voters to our ranks. Then again the Republicans are the dominant party of the nation when united.

Carl E. Milliken: I'm not worrying much about who the candidates will be. The fine thing about it is that it's a good-natured contest, and that the Republican party is going to win, who ever gets the nomination. The sentiment in favor of that party is more intense in my section of the State than I have ever known it to be before, and that feeling is shared by most of those who vote the Progressive ticket. The rank and file are of the opinion that the Republican party offers the best available means of expressing their views.

George G. Weeks: It certainly looks as though the Republican party is going to win. I suppose every candidate is sanguine of his own nomination, but under the present primary system it is merely a matter of getting your friends and friends placed. The tariff question and condition of business will defeat the Democrats.

Timothy F. Callahan: There's no question about party success. The general depression of business all over the country—in other words, the broken promises of the Democratic party tell the story. Their great cry was: Reduce the high cost of living! But they have not done it. The situation is well expressed by a man who said to me that he had rather have the high cost of living than no living at all. In one breath President Wilson is insisting on our right to travel to Europe on any ship; and in the same moment he is ordering every American out of Mexico. He has done nothing to maintain our foreign trade, and expect to. The strength of the Progressives must be considered, and men of progressive ideas must be nominated. I think I shall get the largest part of the Progressive vote.

The Senatorial Candidates

Ex-Gov. Bert M. Fernald: I believe the State will go strongly Republican. A splendid campaign is being made. Whoever gets the nomination will be elected, and every other candidate will be his helper. The policy of the Democratic party, which has been so disastrous to business, will contribute to our success. There have been great changes in my section of the State, and most of the Progressives will vote with our party next fall. I think my chances of getting the nomination are very good.

Col. Frederick Hale: I have been nearly all over the State, and am well pleased with my reception everywhere. I find no difference among the candidates in our party, and there is a disposition on the part of all to help out those who win the nomination. Everything points to victory for the Republican party, with protective tariff as the dominant issue. Many of those who voted for the Progressive cause a year ago express a determination to vote with us in the next election to help defeat Democratic rule.

The Congressional Aspirants

G. N. Blanchard: I am perfectly satisfied with the contest as it is now going, and whoever wins the nomination stands a good chance of being elected. I have been all over the district and there is a feeling that the Republicans will present a united front. Franklin and Oxford counties will show old-time Republican majorities. The Progressives are in sympathy with the underlying principles of the Republican party, and men who think alike on important matters should act alike in the coming election.

Wallace H. White, Jr.: I believe I will carry every county in which I have made a canvass. I have not visited Franklin county, but have had many voluntary assurances of support from there. I have been asked to run for mayor of Lewiston again next spring, and am considering the matter. Last spring a short campaign was crossed. The Republican vote of less than 900 to approximately 2100. The Republicans ought to receive close to 2500 votes next spring, which would carry Lewiston. We have every reason to hope and believe that the district will also go Republican. In order to win we must have the support of the men who have been and still are progressive in principle. Nominations and platforms must be satisfactory to this large element; and I see evidences of an earnest effort to do these things.

Harold M. Sewall: I am keeping an open door to the primaries, which is the right of any Republican until the primaries close.
